

Let's Talk About It – Program Scholar

Alan Johnson

208-282-2198 (office)

208-478-4489 (home)

johnala2@isu.edu

Idaho State University

Dept. of English & Philosophy

Mail Stop 8056

Pocatello, ID 83209

Alan Johnson is professor of English at ISU, where he teaches postcolonial studies, critical theory, comparative cultural studies, and Honors Humanities classes, among others. His book on British colonial Indian lit., "Out of Bounds: Anglo-Indian Literature and the Geography of Displacement," is due out in 2011 from the University of Hawai'i Press. He enjoys writing creatively in his spare time and sharing his experiences about growing up in India.