The reason why I chose Geek by E. Archer to go with the medieval style poster is because of the interesting knightly photo of Ralph, the chivalric main character in the book. This book was so interesting for me simply because of how much in common I had with the main character. Ralph is a nerdy kid who has a lot of things hidden from him. And in the end they are all revealed. I find myself remembering certain situations that happened to me that are portrayed in the book as well, which also made it an easy read for me. The cover of the book is a photo of Ralph posing in a suit of armor with a pair of broken reading glasses, and I thought to myself, how perfect would this medieval style poster fit this image? In the end, it all came together perfectly. After all of the hard work cleaning up the photo of myself with the book, I was able to make it fit into the poster almost perfectly.
