BUILDING A COMMUNITY OF READERS AT YOUR LIBRARY

IDAHO FAMILY READING WEEK NOVEMBER 16-22, 2014
Dear Librarians and Community Literacy Partners,
Idaho Family Reading Week 2014 is right around the corner! This year’s theme is Building a Community of Readers at your library and encourages families to read and build a strong community.

We hope you choose to host a family event at your school or library. We are providing a wealth of resources to help you with your event. Visit libraries.idaho.gov/page/2014-idaho-family-reading-week to see information on how families can support and develop literacy. As always, there are program ideas you can use year-round, plus handouts that support family reading, early literacy skills, booklists, and more.

Publicly-funded public libraries and school libraries planning a Family Reading Week event are encouraged to register online at https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/FRW2014 in order to receive free paperback books for families and a hardcover book for your library. Supplies are limited so register now!

We wish you the best of luck with your Idaho Family Reading Week events!

Warm Regards,

Stephanie, Staci, Erica, & Julie
