

Family Literacy Resources and Links

Reading is Fundamental's bilingual website is designed to help Latino families read, sing, and share stories together at home.

http://www.rif.org/leer/default_english_flash.msp

"The Importance of Reading Widely" Handout

Sharing lots of different kinds, or genre, of books with your young reader exposes them to different words, different pictures, and whole new worlds.

English/Spanish

<http://www.colorincolorado.org/article/36295>

How to Read With a Squiggly Baby (or Toddler!)

By: Reading Rockets (2010)

Parents know they should read with their child every day. But reading together requires that your baby or toddler will actually sit still long enough for a book! If you've got a squiggler in your house, see if these tips help your reading time go a little more smoothly. English/Spanish

<http://www.colorincolorado.org/article/35051>

Rediscover Your Public Library

By: Reading Rockets (2009)

For families with young children, the public library is a great place to find entertainment, educational or cultural enrichment, or valuable information.

Top 9 reasons to go visit. English/Spanish

<http://www.colorincolorado.org/article/30917>

Creating a Home Library

By: Reading Rockets (2008)

English/Spanish

<http://www.colorincolorado.org/article/26730>