

Picture It With Posters

Project or Team Name: Jesse VanWart

Book Title/Author: I Am Number Four by Pittacus Lore

Library Name: Marshall Public Library

Essay:

Edge of My Seat Riveting

This book is an exciting, and suspenseful adventure novel. An example from the book as to why it is my favorite is in the very beginning. Imagine this: Number Three is sitting in his hut with his protector, when the doorknob starts to jiggle; the protector goes to investigate the disturbance. When he reaches the door, a sword is driven through the door impaling him. Number Three then runs through the wall and into the jungle at speeds over 60 miles per hour. He runs until he encounters a massive ravine, which he jumps over to get to safety. To his surprise, the Mogadorians are waiting there for him. That is the end of Number Three. Intriguing, right? That is only the start, because John Smith has to start his own battle with the aliens to see who will be victorious.