C. Idaho Lottery Program update – information item

The Idaho Commission for Libraries is partnering this year with the Idaho Lottery Commission on the Bucks for Books! program to help Idaho’s elementary school libraries purchase the books students need to become proficient readers. Fingertip access to high-quality children’s books in the home, whether those books are owned by the family or borrowed from the library, is an essential element for students to become proficient readers. The Lottery Commission provided $30,000 that will soon be awarded to 12 Idaho school libraries. 88 schools applied for the program, requesting $222,000 in funding. A book drive coordinated by Lottery staff and Barnes and Noble with ICfL’s support provided additional books and gift cards for schools. Lottery officials and ICfL staff will deliver checks and provide publicity about the awards in December 2019.
