

Let's Talk About It – Program Scholar

Cheryl Hindrichs

Boise, ID

cherylhindrichs@boisestate.edu

Cheryl Hindrichs is a professor of English at Boise State University where she has taught since 2006, specializing in British and European modernist literature as well as literary theory and criticism. She has particularly enjoyed teaching literature courses on the topics of food, medicine, film, and WWI. Her publications include works on late modernist literature and the authors Virginia Woolf, H.D., D.H. Lawrence, and Ernest Hemingway. She guest-edited and wrote the introduction for the “Woolf and Illness” special edition of the Virginia Woolf Miscellany in 2017. Her current research is a book project focusing on the ill body in modernism, Pandemic Modernity: the Aesthetics and Ethics of Illness in Modernist Literature, and she is chairing the Hemingway Literary Center's events series commemorating the centennial of World War I and the influenza pandemic. She lives in Boise with a cat with a crooked smile.