PARENTAL RESILIENCE

Our library supports families! It's been a rough year. Your kids are relying on you to help them. Learn how to manage your stress and improve your parenting skills at your library.

SOCIAL CONNECTIONS

Our library supports families! This year we've been socially distant but not disconnected. Your library can help you connect (or reconnect!) to your community.

PARENTING KNOWLEDGE

Our library supports families! Your kids didn't come with an instruction manual. Learn more about your child's development and parenting strategies at your library.

SUPPORT IN TIMES OF NEED

Our library supports families! Is your family struggling? The library can help connect you to resources and information that can help.

SOCIAL & EMOTIONAL

Our library supports families! Children who can communicate clearly, regulate their emotions, and build positive relationships, have better outcomes. Help them develop social-emotional awareness with books from the library.

IDAHO FAMILY SUPPORT

The work of the Idaho Children's Trust Fund is strengthening families and communities to create the safe, stable and nurturing environments all children need to thrive. Thriving families are the key to thriving communities. We know that parenting children can be hard especially in these stressful times. Visit idahofamilysupport.org or call or text 986-867-1073 as a resource to all of us who need help sometimes.
