It's awards season, and ALA's awards will be announced at LibLearnX on January 22 at 8:00 a.m.

EST; so very early in MST and PST. Watch the announcements for winners of medals and honors in 18 categories...in your jammies! Tune in at 5:00 a.m. PST/6:00 a.m. MST for all the early morning fun!

If your school is not a first-time grantee, remember to complete one professional development/continuing education activity to learn more about literacy and/or librarianship. There are lots of great options to fulfill this requirement that will fit into anyone's schedule at the Continuing Education section of the ICFL website. Also, keep an eye on The Scoop for PD options. Can't remember if your school has received an SLA Mini-Grant before this year's? Check this list - it's organized alphabetically by school district.

Looking for titles students love?

The Pacific Northwest Library Association has the skinny on what students love to read because they've been the engine behind the Young Readers Choice Award since 1940. Students nominate and vote on titles in Junior, Intermediate, and Senior categories. Take a look at the 2024 nominations to determine which are a good fit for your school library collection.
