Career Prep Resources Available for Idahoans through LearningExpress

BOISE, Idaho –Idahoans have free, 24/7 access to career preparation resources through the expansive LearningExpress Library via the lili.org platform, provided by the Idaho Commission for Libraries (ICfL).

Under the “career preparation” tab of LearningExpress, users will find information about a variety of careers, including the culinary arts, law enforcement, nursing, and teaching. There are also resources for people changing careers and for veterans transitioning to post-military employment.

Many careers require applicants to pass a proficiency exam. LearningExpress includes a number of career exams for interested job seekers to use as practice. Some of the available exams include those for: civil service; commercial driver’s license; cosmetology; electrician; firefighting; hospitality; law enforcement; nursing; plumbing; real estate; social work; and teaching.

The career prep section of LearningExpress also has tools to help people conduct a successful job search; create an effective résumé and cover letter; interview with confidence; negotiate a salary; and learn networking skills. There is also business writing help and tips for achieving professional success.

Check out lili.org and LearningExpress for a wealth of freely available resources for Idahoans who are starting their professional journey or looking to change careers.
